

GIANTS EASY WINNERS

Colored Team Batted the Ball Hard at an Oppor-tune Time.

GAME THROUGHOUT DULL ONE.

Largest Crowd of the Season Was Out to See It—Morgantown Athletic Club Nine Scheduled to Play This Afternoon.

Before the largest crowd that has been seen on the local grounds so far this season the Connellsville West Penn team, went down to defeat at the hands of the Cuban Giants Thursday by a score of 13 to 3. A reversal of form was shown in the game and the fighting spirit manifested on both sides Wednesday was somewhat lacking. Bright, the young southpaw who did the twirling for the visitors, had the local batters at his mercy throughout the game and the eight hits off his delivery were kept well scattered. The game was marred by wrangling on both sides. Henry Doran started out with the indicator but his umpiring was not satisfactory, especially to the Giants. After the second inning he was relieved by Garrahan and Sampson, the latter representing the Giants. Both new umpires gave entire satisfaction. Doran's worst mistake was changing his decision when he declared Whalen safe at the plate after mentioning that he was out. His excuse was that Catcher Smith dropped the ball but the big negro denied this and those along the lines near him were reasonably sure that Whalen was out at the plate by a mile. Doran's last decision stood, however, in spite of a vigorous protest on the part of the Giants.

It took 15 minutes to settle this dispute and by the time the boys got to playing again some of the spectators were pretty tired.

The locals played in hard luck, but taken all around they had an off day. The visitors had their batting clothes on and all pitchers looked alike to them. Back, who started out, lasted one and two-third innings. The delivery of the Gettysburg boy was pie for the colored sluggers and they hit everything that came their way. The first three men in the opening inning hit for singles and the fifth did likewise, but never fielding prevented more than one score from coming in. With two on bases and none out Smith singled to left. Essler threw to Birmingham and caught Battle coming to third. Bradley scored on the play. With Smith on third and two out, in this inning, Watkins singled. The Giants' captain made a bluff at smiling second, in hopes that Smith might score. He was run down between bases, however, and was touched out before the big fellow could tally.

In the second inning the Giants started off well, getting three hits and a base on balls with two out. Black was then replaced by Galsor and before the big fellow could warm up a single and double came, netting five runs in all.

In the second a fumble by Watkins, two singles, sacrifice and a run decision at home let two runs in for Connellsville. Whalen reached first when Watkins dropped Satterfield's throw and sprinted to third on two passed balls. He dashed home on Birmingham's single. It looked as though Smith had him nailed at the plate. The big fellow jammed Whalen in the wind with the ball, knocking him out for a moment. Doran warned him out, but later changed his mind and called him safe. Birmingham went to third on the play and after a long argument, when play was resumed scored on Galsor's sacrifice.

In the fourth Birmingham brought in the last tally made by the locals, being safe on first when HPI dropped a high fly close to the home plate and scoring on Amshy's single.

The Giants made all their runs by batting the ball at opportune moments. They also fielded fast and another at bat, which looked like safe once in the seventh inning Battle supplanted Galsor and he was hit for four hits, including a double during the remainder of the game. The score:

He turned a somersault but held on to the ball. The play didn't do any good as both men on bases were safe. It looked like an out from the grandstand but Umpire Garrahan decided differently.
Hennessy caught a nice game. One had throw was the only miscue against him.
Amshy was a little off in his throw to first but otherwise covered short in fine style.
Satterfield was again a star. The little fellow was always in the way of hits that looked safe.
Every Connellsville player got a hit except Whalen and the pitchers.
An infield fly figured in the game in the fourth. Hennessy batted it and Bradley dropped the sphere on purpose. Birmingham was on first and held that sack. Umpire Sampson looked puzzled and finally called Birmingham out and Hennessy safe. Although it didn't make any difference for Connellsville the runner, Hennessy should have been called out, according to the rules.
The Connellsville team this afternoon will play the Morgantown Athletic team at M. & S. park. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

PT. MARION BRIDGE.

Commissioners and Bridge Company Confer on Proposed Structure Over Cheat.

UNIONTOWN, Apr. 26.—A representative of the York Bridge Company was here yesterday with plans and specifications for the proposed bridge across the Cheat river at Point Marion and during the afternoon held a conference with the County Commissioners and their attorney, R. F. Hopwood. If the plans are accepted and later approved by the War Department, advertisement will be run at once for the contract and the chances are that active work will be started within a few weeks. The citizens of the southern part of the county are greatly interested and are hopeful that the bridge will be completed and ready for traffic before the high waters of the fall season.

At the point where the bridge is to be built the river is about 500 feet wide but it will be necessary to add an extra span or two. Colonel Sbert, the Government engineer, who was first approached in the matter, urged the Commissioners and others having the work in charge to build for the future. In his opinion the Cheat river will be a navigable stream within a few years on account of the coal and other industrial developments in the parts of the two States adjacent. In order to provide for such a contingency Colonel Sbert demanded that the piers be built about ten feet higher than the Connellsville water level. This matter, however, was later satisfactorily limited. The extra height will require a much larger structure and in addition will compel fills on the Point Marion side which may greatly damage private property and for which the county will be liable.

The Mansdown Brown Company have instituted an action in ejectment against Fritz Larkewicz to remove possession of a house and lot in German township near Mansdown.

NEW NICKELODEON.

It Will Shortly Be Opened in the Pritchard Building.

John W. Nave, the well known file clerk of the Baltimore & Ohio offices, has turned full-time theatrical man, and tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock he will be seen running things at his brand new nickelodeon in the old Pritchard building, which he has called "The Nickelodeon." A large amount of money has already been expended in placing the large room in up to date shape for the show business. The floor elevation is something new in the nickelodeon style, having a 24 pitted, which will afford a splendid view of the stage and the pictures. The interior has been most artistically decorated. The building has been rented in accordance with the State building laws, and has two commodious exits.

The concern is managed by a company composed entirely of local people. The big attraction for Saturday evening will be the Young Quartette, which has been engaged especially for the occasion. This quartette, as is well known in Connellsville, has an enviable reputation, besides every member has hosts of friends and as a drawing card nothing better could have been placed upon the bill. Just as perfectly as he used to keep the documents in the D. & O. officers John will undoubtedly conduct the business of his Nickelodeon, and that assures a guarantee that the shows will be the right thing in the right place.

SURPRISE PARTY

Given Mrs. Richard Powell by Church Organizations.

Mrs. Richard Powell was tendered a surprise party last evening by the Ladies' Aid Society, the Christian Endeavor and the Willing Workers of South Connellsville. At the gathering last evening addresses were made by Enoch Thomas, George Griffith, R. M. Matthews of South Connellsville and Robert Haws and Robert Williams of Dunbar.

Refreshments were served about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Powell was presented with a handsome silver tea set.

Washington Men Released.

The following players signed by the Washington club of the P. O. M. League have been released: Manager William E. Brown, Pitchers Mummer, Ryan and Phillips, Short stop Callahan and Outfielder Corrigan. Phillips would look good on the mound for Connellsville.

Altoona Wife Killer Convicted.

R. Cirilli, an Italian laborer who has been placed upon the bill. Just as perfectly as he used to keep the documents in the D. & O. officers John will undoubtedly conduct the business of his Nickelodeon, and that assures a guarantee that the shows will be the right thing in the right place.

The new effect this season is all brought out in the shoemaking. There are no freakish shapes or extreme edges to distract attention from the real qualities of the shoe. In fact, it is the quality that determines the styles, as the new custom effects cannot be produced by unskilled labor with cheap material.

The general tone and character of the new styles are most pleasing, and the shoes dress the feet more attractively than for several seasons. As the price for the different lines are the same as previously, it can be seen that the advancing price of leather has not yet affected the retail trade.

THE DANGERS OF THE REPUBLIC.

In his address at the opening of the Jamestown Exposition, President Roosevelt drew a graphic picture of the iron character of the first settlers "who planted themselves alone on the edge of a frowning continent," and who fought their way westward through the great valleys and rocky ranges until they covered the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf.

He depicted the growth of the republic, its mighty struggles within and without, and its final triumph in the shape of self-government on a scale incomparably greater than ever before attempted in the history of the world, and from these facts he drew the inevitable conclusion that if the nation would live and grow greater the people must never forget to govern themselves wisely and honestly and patriotically. In a monarchial form of government the sovereign cannot escape responsibility for his acts; in a republic the people are sovereign and upon them ultimately rests the same responsibility. If their ministers are unfaithful or unwise, they must displace them.

Prosperity is not without its penalties. The President pointed out that among the evils which have accompanied the present era of good times corruption stands preeminent. The principle has been extended to both capital and labor. It is not essentially evil; on the contrary, it is capable of much good. It is the duty of the hour to encourage the good and repress the evil. On this point the President dwelt at some length. He declared that his purpose was not to tear down, but to build up, not to wreak indiscriminate vengeance for past wrongs, but to prevent wrongdoing in the future; not to oppose the proper uses of property, but to preserve the rights of property. Above all, he insisted that while facing changed conditions we face them "in the spirit which our forefathers showed when they founded and preserved this republic."

The President struck the keynote of American character. The danger to that priceless heritage which our forefathers carved from out the vast wilderness in the preceding century lies not in the lack of American patriotism, but in the sudden sloth and rust with which wealth and ease may cover it. When danger from without threatens us, the nation springs to arms with all the animation and determination of their indomitable forefathers. Such a visible and tangible danger stirs the blood to action. But the dangers from within are too often insidious and unseen. They seep and silently weave their web about the unsuspecting people, who are caught in their coils before they realize their peril.

It is against such enemies as these that the President's warning is directed. The American people should heed it well. If they would preserve that orderly liberty which is the life of the nation and of its people, they must ever vigilantly guard against the dangers pointed out by the President, on the one hand of a government by the plutocracy, and on the other of a government by the mob.

TROLLEY FREIGHTS AND COMMON CARRIERS.

The announcement of the West Penna. Railway Company that they will not be present at the hearing of the freight under the new law permitting them to do so should not be surprising in the face of the facts. As the management of the company explains, its capacity is already taxed in the transportation of passengers. It is perhaps the more profitable business; at any rate, the facilities of the company will have to be enlarged at considerable expense before the carrying of freight can be undertaken.

If this is done, the company must be prepared to meet the opposition of the railroads, which touch nearly all trolley points. It seems reasonable to assume, however, that the trolley company must inevitably get a larger share of the small freight and express business because of its more frequent deliveries; and further, that its facilities when provided will enable it to successfully compete with the railroads.

As to the cost of equipment for this work, it would not seem to be so great since it would in the beginning at least involve only additional rolling stock and the possible extension of sidings. Freight cars could follow passenger cars without interfering with the schedules of the latter. Delays in the unloading and loading of small freight would not be serious; and, if they should be at any particular stop, the freight car could be over until the next passenger car came along.

The difficulties of inaugurating the trolley freight business are not after all so great, it is to be noted, as to seem to the mind unskilled in trolley matters. In the rural districts where there is no direct railroad competition, the carriage of freight will no doubt be profitable and will be demanded by the public. In the Connelville coke region, this demand is not so urgent, but there is nevertheless a demand.

The trolley law, like all other laws, has not been made public. The Legislature does not seem to be willing to let the people know just what the laws are which they pass at Harrisburg. But if we are correctly informed, the trolley freight bill makes common carriers of all companies who accept its provisions. Perhaps this fact is a consideration with the West Penna. company. Common carriers are subject to a great deal of embarrassing "regulation" just now.

FAYETTE COUNTY'S DOUBTFUL HONORS.

Fayette county is second in the number of prisoners in the Western Penitentiary and third in its contributions to the Morgantown household. These are doubtful honors.

They are, however, the penalty we have to pay for our industrial growth. They are in no sense a reflection upon the character of Fayette citizenship since most of the jailbirds are not citizens, and but few of them are natives of this county.

Our officers have been criticised recently for the "wave of crime" that engulfs the county and particularly the sections peopled by foreigners. But it is not within the power of a corporal's guard to cope with the lawless spirit of an army scattered over a wide expanse of territory. They are doing well if they apprehend the criminals and bring them to justice after the crimes are committed.

Yet some efficient means ought to be found to prevent this evil. Prevention is preferable to punishment. The Courthouse has tentatively suggested the State Constabulary. They could certainly be better employed in this work than they now are camped in the peaceful and pleasant shades of Mt. Odin.

The authorities of Fayette should take steps to secure their assistance in staying the storm of lawlessness which bursts forth every Sunday.

Another half-trigger officer of the law will be called upon to explain his authority for shooting a fleeing prisoner. It is to be hoped that two cases of the same nature will elicit a lucid exposition of the rights and duties of officers under the circumstances. The right of a man to shoot a burglar is admitted, the right of an officer of the law to shoot an escaping prisoner is not, and the right of a husband or father to shoot the despoiler of his home is denied. There are some things about the law that need to be reconciled to the lay mind.

If it is desired to elect United States Senators by a direct vote of the people, by all means do it right. Don't give us any impracticable and embarrassing substitutes.

The proposed primary laws are far from being improvements.

The Government has stamped the Jamestown Exposition with its approval. The stamps may be bought at the usual price.

Violent men who slash recklessly with their knives should be shut up where they can't slash around any else.

Uncle Joe Cannon wants it understood that he is a candidate for President himself and hasn't time to lead anybody else. He may take time soon, but not yet.

Some of the railroads are measuring up with a view to showing that they are not all water.

The Easter bonnet got a day now and then.

Legislation should not be wholly experimental. If its wisdom is open to reasonable doubt, it had better not be enacted.

The April weather comes in spots.

The narrow way is rugged, but it's not slippery like smooth Broadway.

The Jamestown Indians are on the War Path to-day, but they have no monopoly. There are other Indians and other War Paths.

The Harrisburg Monkey House passed a resolution against lobbyists on the floor, but said nothing about the Speaker's class.

The Legislature evinces a disposition to unload its responsibilities upon the shoulders of the Governor, chiefly by making appropriations regardless of the revenues of the State. This Legislature has a mean as well as a foolish disposition.

The Capitol probe is getting hot.

The mercantile tax is to be called by another name, but it won't be any sweeter. The Monkey House has a fashion of dressing its old dollops in new clothes.

Under an act just signed by the Governor, boroughs are permitted to elect their solicitors for five years. The object is perhaps to permit the solicitors enough time to learn some borough law. It's a good law.

Postmaster Collins is now a veteran of two wars.

A couple of marines declare they were elected from the Congressional Library because they wore in uniform. That will do for the marines to tell.

Senator Penrose called at the White House yesterday. There were no broken bones, not even loud words. The only possible contact had all been fought out in the newspapers.

The Monkey House is getting down to a routine of its business. It is time. If the reform holds good, it may earn for itself a more dignified title.

A Present of a Five Pound Box of Schraff's Best Chocolates for You.

Tomorrow [Saturday] we are going to open our new room, which we have had built especially as a place to serve iced and soda water. It is in the rear of our present store room and is unique from every point of view.

Our friends and customers all say so and we admit it ourselves. It is lined with slabs on which the bark still remains. In one end is a brick fireplace and up the sides climb grapevines.

It is decorated with natural looking leaves, bunches of grapes and growing ferns. For you to see it though will be better than a dozen pages of description.

Now, about the five pound box of candy. We had thought of calling this room "The Log Cabin" but that doesn't seem good enough, so, to the person who suggests the name which seems most catchy, we are going to make a present of a five pound box of Schraff's chocolates and to the one who suggests the second best name a one pound box of Wilbur's Chocolate Buds.

We require that each suggestion be written on a special form. These forms can be had at the store on request.

No suggestions will be received after May 15, 1907.

THE WEATHER.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair Friday, preceded by rain and colder in south portion; Saturday, fair and warmer, fresh northwest winds.

THE BALANCE OF THE MONTH

So far this month the bad weather has interfered with the dry goods business. So disagreeable some days that we could hardly expect people to come to the store unless it was a necessity. We want to do enough business in the remaining days of this month to make up for the loss on these disagreeable days. Going to offer some inducements to make it worth your while to help us do this. We realize that we will need your help to do this, and we think these prices we mention below will be sufficient inducement to get you to give us that help.

Jacket Suits at $20.00.

Don't jacket suits that sold for $25, all we have of them we place on sale for $20, for the balance of this month of April. That's $5 you can save because of the bad weather. We call particular attention to these suits because at $25 we believe that they were the best suits ever offered at that price.

Embroideries and Insertions at 25c the Yard.

A table of these just as you enter the store. Fine embroideries, narrow and wide. None worth less than 25 cents the yard. Some worth 50 cents. We have marked all these at 25 cents.

Percal Skirts at $1.00.

Percal same quality as these are made of retail now for 15 cents the yard. Now then count up for yourself how much there is left for the making. See how well they are made and then think whether you can afford to go to the trouble of buying the percale and the work of making a skirt like these.

Velvet Carpet at $1 the Yard.

Worth $1.25, and this price of $1.00 the yard means made, laid and lined. Four patterns of these and if your room takes 30 yards, that means a saving of, $7.50. Worth investigating, is it not?

Silk Shirt Waist Suits at $5 and $10.

About a dozen of these and we have divided them into two lots one lot at $5.00 and one at $10.00. Colors blue gray and black. These ought, at these prices, to be sold on the first day after this announcement. That's a hint if you are interested to get here as soon as possible.

Dress Goods and Silks.

Prices on these are not reduced. In the first place they were marked as low as we could afford to mark them and do business. So low that even among these bargain offerings they merit special mention. Marked so low that in spite of the bad weather the business in this department has been beyond the average. We do not believe there has ever been in this vicinity a showing of these goods anything as good as the stock we have here now. We ask you to come and see and judge for yourself whether these statements are true.

GAVE PASTOR A PURSE

Presbyterians at Scottdale
Honor Rev. J. B. Lyle on Friday Evening.

JAS. STONER'S HOUSE BURNED.

Old-Fashioned Entertainment to Be Held at Pelgar's School Saturday
Evening—McKeesport Team Plays
Today and Tomorrow.

SCOTSDALE, Apr. 26.—The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church held a reception for Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Lyle on Friday evening that was a very large and pleasant event, and testified substantially to the appreciation in which they are held by their people. The affair was in a way the formal farewell of the congregation which Rev. Lyle has served for the last 17 years, and an interesting social program was carried out. In behalf of the congregation J. R. Smith, Esq., presented the pastor with a purse, containing $20. The boys' Bible class and the girls' Bible class also each gave handsome presents by Rev. Lyle, after which follow refreshments of ice cream, sandwiches, cake and pie and coffee.

The Japanese tea given by the Standard Bearers of the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening was a unique and interesting entertainment that drew a large audience. Mrs. J. P. Strickler had charge of the program all of which related to Japanese life. There were songs, ballads, stories and dramas that were very pretty. Rev. Leigh Lehman of Connellsville, who spent 11 years in Japan, was present with a collection of idols and various other Japanese things. He gave an interesting talk and told of the worship of ancestors practiced by the Japs, pointing out how in the recent war no victories were ever ascribed to the army but "to the virtues of our illustrious ancestors." Some one asked him about Admiral Togo, who was claimed to be a Presbyterian, and asked if he worshipped his ancestors. Rev. Lehman said that Togo is a Shintoist, a worshipper of his ancestors, and that while during the war about every great general was reputed to belong to some church, that all of them are ancestor worshippers. About the closest they come to it was one whose wife is a member of a church.

The house of James Stoner between Scottdale and Rankin school house was burned to the ground with most of its contents on Thursday. Mr. Stoner, it seems, was heating painting on a stove in the wash house, and when he lifted the vessel the bottom came out and the paint went into the fire causing a big blaze that soon communicated itself to everything surrounding. But few of the household goods were saved and the loss is a large one.

There have been great preparations made for the old-fashioned literary and musical entertainment to be held at Pelgar's school house, west of town, on Saturday evening at 7:30. Among those to take part in the recitations, songs and dialogues are Harold Francis, Evelyn Shively, Edna Pelgar, Hilda Peterson, Henry Lino Hazel Shively, Jay Hough, Eva Cotton, Sarah Dorsey, Walter Cotton, Gertrude Shively, Vernon Gallatin Ruth Shively, while Evelyn Shively delivers a valedictory. The instrumental music will be furnished by the popular Warheit orchestra from Scottdale.

Scottdale and McKeesport baseball teams are to come together at Ellis worth park this afternoon and Saturday, and at 3:30. "Jock" Menefee of Scottdale 39 game will have charge of the P. O. M. aggregation and good games may be looked for. Speedy Miller will pitch for McKeesport and Lloyd and Jackson will do the similar job for Scottdale. Eddio Cramer will umpire both games.

A SYMPOSIUM

Of Two Adult Bible Classes at the First Baptist Church Held
Last Evening.

Last evening the members and friends of the two adult classes in the Bible school of the First Baptist Church met in the Chapel for an evening of pleasure and profit. The pastor acted as Chairman. Addresses were given by Prof. Deffenbaugh, Prof. Jones and H. B. DeYee. The subjects discussed were relative to Bible study. Several spoke from the floor and added much to the profit of the evening. A musical program was given in connection with the addresses that added to the pleasure of the evening. The violin solo by Prof. Hughs was of special merit, but so was all the rest of the music. The audience sang a few of the National airs, entertained themselves in going through an art gallery in which were many of the famous paintings.

The two classes are under the leadership of Prof. Deffenbaugh and are flourishing. They prove, as a great leader once said when asked how large one should be when too large to attend Sunday school. The answer was, "When one cannot get through the door, but not before." Ladies and gentlemen not affiliated elsewhere will be welcomed to this school. Classes meet in the auditorium of the church Sunday morning at 9:15.

TARIFF WAR AVOIDED

Germany's Moderation Will Prevent
Crippling of Commerce.

Cologne, April 26.—An inspired telegram from Berlin regarding the provisional arrangement of tariff relations between Germany and the United States is printed by the Cologne Gazette. It says that considering how little the United States was able to offer Germany at the present time it was impossible for Germany to discuss again the concession of the entire German conventional tariff; but though the latter was only conceded in parts, American interests and wishes were considered to such an extent that an unhindered development in the exchange of goods is expected.

Starting tonight with a lead of 53 balls, the champion gave a brilliant exhibition in the early frames he increased his lead to 64. SPEAKS IN DEFENSE.

Invalid Wife of William D. Haywood Says He Is Noble Husband.

HAS CARED FOR HER TENDERLY

Believes in His Innocence But Says Great Interests are Determined to Have His Life—Condemns Law That Permits Kidnaping.

Denver, Colo., April 26.—Mrs. Haywood, the invalid wife of W. D. Haywood, who has been characterized by President Roosevelt as an "undesirable citizen," makes the following statement for publication:

"It given a fair trial my husband will be acquitted. He has done nothing for which he should be punished and I have no fear that he will ever end his life on the gallows. Evidence to convict him has been manufactured, but it cannot prevail against innocence.

"While I have a firm belief that he will be acquitted sooner or later, if not at this trial then at some other, I have learned in the past 14 months not to become too hopeful. I have felt what money can do when organized and directed against the liberty of any one man, but in the end justice must triumph.

"My husband's trial will be a battle against many obstacles. The men who would like to see him die have unlimited wealth and are prepared to spend it to frighten others against taking the lead among men who want to be free men, not slaves.

"President Roosevelt's declaration has been another blow. He calls my husband an undesirable citizen. I never found him so in the long years when he ministered to my wants with all the tenderness that love could prompt.

"When he carried me in his arms at the end of his day's work, that I might get fresh air and perhaps get well, when he attended to my wants during my long years of sickness, it seems to me that he showed those qualities of noblest manhood which any nation could afford to cherish in its citizens.

"I may go to the trial. I would have to be carried to the courtroom, but if my presence there or any word of mine could help, no sacrifice would be too great to repay the man who, to me, has been both husband and nurse.

"The hearts of the mothers and fathers of the land beat in sympathy with that of the father of Horace Marvin, the kidnaped boy. Great rewards are offered. The president is interested. Yet it is possible, by perverisions of law, to kidnap men and hold them 14 months without a trial. Our hearts and our laws do not seem to fit."

Chicago, April 26.—President Roosevelt's phrase, "undesirable citizens," with which he branded Meyer and Harp, in his letter to Honore J. Jones, has been voluntarily assumed by delegates who attended a meeting of the Meyer-Haywood defense conference. The "stigma" was declared to be a badge of honor. Indemnity plans were laid for a demonstration on the lake front on May 19. Chairman Barney Berley announced that only "undesirable citizens" would be asked to participate.

INDUSTRIAL CITY

Planned by American Steel and Wire Company Near Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., April 26.—Announcement made today of the intention of the American Steel and Wire company to establish a new industrial city on the 1,000-acre plot of land recently secured by the company just south of this city. It is the intention to invite other large corporations in need of locations to join the new $2,000,000 plant of the American Steel and Wire company soon to be started. Houses are to be built for the accommodation of employees and a thriving community of several thousand people is expected to develop. An invitation has been extended to the National Cash Register company of Dayton to come here.

SIMPLY HAD TO PAY

New Orleans Newsies Collect Toll When Streets Are Flooded.

New Orleans, La., April 26.—A torrential rain flooded many sections of New Orleans. Water was more than a foot deep in parts of Canal street, where the big stores are located and shoppers and business men stood marooned on the sidewalks while the rascals of reaching street cars in the elevated center of the street was by precarious plank bridges laid by newsboys and costing five cents toll per passenger.

Those who ventured on the planks and refused to pay were promptly cut off from moving in either direction by knocking out planks at either end of the bridge.

Murderer Resists Execution.

Guthrie, Okla., April 26.—Bob Watts, a young white man, was hanged in the jail yard here under tragic circumstances. He had become possessed of a knife and resisted to the end. Ammonia was thrown into his cell and he was thus overcome and dragged to the scaffold by force, coughing and moaning hideously. Watts was hanged for the murder of Ford Winkles, an old Confederate soldier in the fall of 1904. Winkles had drawn his pension money amounting to $30 from the state and was on route home when he was murdered. The dying man said that Watts had shot and robbed him.

GOLD WILL FLOW INTO YOUR POCKETS

Just as Surely as Day Follows Night If You Invest in Stock of

THE BRADDOCK GOLD MINING & MILLING CO.

The Price Per Share is But 20c Now, But Will Soon Be Greatly Advanced.

Don't hesitate! Don't procrastinate! or before you realize it your opportunity to get in on this splendid proposition while the price is at rock bottom will have flown. The mine of the Braddock Gold Mining & Milling Co., situated in the famous Thunder Mountain District of Idaho,

Is Not a Myth, Neither is It a Prospect, But is an Assured Fortune Maker.

The tunnel now being driven and which is now nearly 200 feet long, has opened up veins of the richest low grade ore, assays of which, taken at distances of 50 feet apart, as the tunnel progressed, have shown GOLD IN BIG PAY QUANTITIES. In fact, the last assay made quite recently, showed $700.00 worth of gold to the ton. This is an exceptional average and is not expected to be maintained, but there is but little doubt that the ore will produce such an amount of gold as will make the property of the Braddock Gold Mining & Milling Co. one of the best paying mines in the country.

Sufficient Money is Wanted for Pushing Developments.

And as soon as this is secured, which will not be long at the rate the stock is now selling, the price of the stock will certainly jump to par. The men behind the proposition are not irresponsible people who are misrepresenting their proposition or who are trying to skin you out of your money. The Company is composed of the most representative business and professional men of Braddock, Pa., whose integrity is beyond reproach. Every statement made as to their mine is absolutely correct and can readily be verified as such.

Put a Few Dollars Into This Proposition Now, and Within a Year You'll Double Them Many Times.

One-fifth down and one-fifth per month, are the terms upon which you can purchase this stock.
